A photograph of a breakfast meal set on a table with a light-colored, patterned tablecloth. In the center is a white plate with a blue floral border, containing a serving of white rice topped with a fried egg. To the left of the plate is a slice of white bread. Above the plate is a small glass filled with a light brown liquid, likely milk. To the right of the plate is a small carton of milk. In the background, another carton of milk and a glass are partially visible.
