A photograph of a breakfast meal on a table with a light-colored, patterned tablecloth. In the center is a white plate with a blue floral border, containing two fried eggs and a slice of toast. To the left of the plate is another slice of toast. Above the plate is a small glass filled with a light brown liquid, likely milk. To the right of the glass is a small, yellow and white carton of milk. A silver knife is placed to the right of the plate. In the background, there are more food items, including a bowl of fruit and another carton of milk.
